Series Details

This series is free to join! As of now, it includes 5 races throughout the 2017 year, three of which will take place in or near the Bluefield City Park. Participants will earn points for finishing position and/or participation in each race, all season long, which will contribute to their overall score for the series. The series will conclude with an award ceremony after the Holiday of Lights 5K Challenge in December. The male and female with the most points accumulated will be crowned race series Champion.
